

An ambiguous spill of Cabernet and salt. Woodrot and sooty, guttered candles caked with age-old dust.

VILLAINESS is engineered to intrigue with imaginative concepts, evocative scents, and silken textures. Hand-crafted in small batches from luxurious natural ingredients, each product indulges your skin along with your sense of adventure. Explore our fall collection at www.villainess.net — debuts September 28th, 2012.

Returning this year is the terribly creepy Cobwebs collection. Stark-black Soap streaked with white in our decadent shea and mango butter formula, and a small phial of Extrait.

A disturbing autumnal offering, the Turnip Torch is a bizarrely lavender-veined bar Soap, enriched with cruelty-free silk fibers. Delightfully atmospheric for the spookiest time of year.

Celebrating the downward spiral, Moral Decay appears in a deceptively-indulgent, jaundice-tinted Soap, and a tempting Burn! soy-candle.

Honey sweet, smoky lapsang souchong tea, brewed too strong and liberally debauched with aniseed, ginger, cinnamon, bergamot and gentian.
